

Getting Muddy with it:
St Andrew's Sarah Almond
is up to her neck.

Mud and games at camp

By Grace Stanley, Year 6, St Andrew's Catholic College

ON Monday, March 7, Year 6 students from St Andrew's Catholic College left Redlynch for their school camp at Mungall Falls, staying for three days and two nights.

The camp was a chance for students to get to know each other and participate in fun activities.

The activities involved were raft building, damper making, boomerang throwing, and there was an obstacle course and a land slide.

The most popular activity was the land slide — it involved sliding down a ridiculously steep hill, rolled up in a rubber mat like a hot dog.

All of the activities were new and exciting experiences for the Year 6 students.

Many of the activities involved getting wet and very muddy, which was great fun!

On the bus ride back to the college, we were all very tired, yet happy that we had such a good time and made new friends. Everyone is eager for the next camp; the only problem is we have to wait until next year!